Airport Opportunity

Staff Writer

Investors and developers can now begin submitting proposals to the Miami-Dade Aviation Department for four sites totaling about 36 acres at Miami International Airport's main entrance, known as Central Boulevard. The land is available to developers to finance, design, construct, renovate, manage or operate facilities there. Potential investors have called one 25-acre parcel an ideal site for a conference center, hotel, retail and office complex. An 8-acre site is designated for a retail service plaza. A 3-acre parcel is designated for hotel development. The last parcel is the existing in-terminal hotel site, which could also include three floors of adjoining office space currently occupied by the aviation department. Proposals are due by 5 p.m. Oct. 15.
